Person-Centered Planning and Process

- A bit of history-over 30 years
- In MI: People with DD to People aging and with physical disabilities to Dual Demonstration.
- Common themes in definitions:
  - Honoring a person's preferences
  - Honoring a person's culture
  - Involving family and supporter's chosen by the person.
  - Addressing goals and issues beyond clinical issues

What does it look like?

- We know when it's not present.
  - Examples
- We know it when it is present
  - Examples

Person-Centered

- It's hard to measure
- A lot of anecdotes
- “How many anecdotes make data?”

Authentic Person-Centered Planning

- Important to health care
- Transformative to person
- Rewarding to staff facilitating the process.
- Cost-effective?
