CONGRESSIONAL FELLOW

What are the areas in health policy you are excited to learn?

I'm excited to continue digging deeper into to the history of health policy. This fellowship helped shine a light for me on how I've only scratched the surface of understanding how some of the major health care bills got across the finish line.

What does leadership look like to you at this stage in your career?

At this stage in my career, leadership looks like being a good partner and coalition builder.

What's one thing you've learned during this fellowship that will stick with you?

My biggest take away from this fellowship will be the importance of leading with compassion and assuming best intentions, especially when working across the aisle.
